

Blue Zone

Program

October 22, 13:15 - 14:30 local Time

Facilitating Open Biodiversity Data

In this session, multilateral development banks and the Global Biodiversity Information Facility (BGIF) will discuss how to incentivize publication of biodiversity data obtained during project assessments and evaluations.

October 24, 15:00 - 16:00

Reconciling nature conservation and development: how to build an enabling environment and meet biodiversity targets.

During this session Wildlife Conservation Society and Biotope will discuss the multi-year and multi-country COMBO + project.

Infos

October 29, 16:00 - 18:00

Interoperable sustainable finance taxonomies: a key tool to mobilize private capital for the Global Biodiversity Framework implementation

This session, organized by the Working Group on Sustainable Finance Taxonomies for Latin America and the Caribbean, aims to discuss the role of sustainable finance taxonomies in engaging the private sector in biodiversity conservation, the importance of interoperability for cross-border capital flows, and present the LAC Taxonomy Common Framework for Biodiversity as a best practice example.

Infos

October 31, 18:00 - 19:15

Comparative analysis of biodiversity measurement approaches for development banks: what metrics for TNFD and GBF target 15 reporting.

This session will discuss several common methods for measuring and reporting biodiversity and how they can be used by development banks.